Evaluation Summary

Your child was evaluated in all developmental domains, using more than one method and by more than one discipline. The evaluation team identified that your child shows no delay based on scores and clinical opinion. Your child is currently demonstrating skills and behaviors similar to same-age children and is not eligible for Early Intervention. Below, the team has summarized your child's current level of functioning in all developmental domains. They explain what was learned about your child's development through personal observations of your child, testing (including which test(s) administered), review of your child's history, and other information you provided.

I. Tool administration: In this section, the evaluation team documents what tool was used, the date(s) of administration, and results in all developmental domains (adaptive, physical [gross and fine motor, vision, hearing], communication, social emotional and cognition). The location of testing and notations of any adaption to the tool or environment (adaptive equipment, interpreter, sign language) are included.

II. Review of your child's history: This is a summary of what the evaluation team learned through parent interview and reviewing health (such as medical, vision, hearing, nutrition, genetics, and specialized clinic) and education records (such as early head start and childcare providers).
