

Name: _____

Interviewer: _____

Date: _____

Developmental Specialist

Professional Supports

e.g. Colleagues such as EI team members and supervisors, professional mentors outside of EI team, college professors, EI service providers in other counties, state technical assistance consultants

Professional Resources

e.g. Websites, observations of visits and team meetings, books, fidelity tools, journals, evaluation and assessment tools, professional organization memberships, policy/procedure guides, trainings, professional learning communities

Personal Supports & Activities

e.g. Friends, family, hobbies, self-attributes, religious and community affiliations

Developmental Specialist Ecomap

Guiding Questions

- Who was the first person you called to tell them you got this position? Would you say that is one of your go to people for support and encouragement?
- Who are some of the other people (family/friends) that you can connect with for support?
- In what ways do they support you?
- What do you like to do in your free time?
- What are your strengths that help in your work with children and families? Additional prompt: Name some things you are proud of about yourself and your professional skills.
- Tell me about the people on your EI team. Who have you been able to connect with so far?
- What experiences have helped you learn more about your profession and role?
- We are doing more of our jobs through virtual means, how comfortable are you with technology?
- Tell me about the people/classes that helped you get to where you are today? Would you recommend those classes to others?
- This job can be stressful. What strategies have you developed for dealing with stress?
- Where do you get information for resources you may need for families?
- What organizations are you connected with or do you belong to?
- Are there any other people or resources you want to include that we haven't talked about?